Nature Of Opinion

Docket Number: E-01345A-16-0036

Docket Position: Against

Consumers have been repeatedly charged more and more for power service, forced to pay fees we voted against to "maintain the grid", and constant increases that make basic survival for poor and low income families almost impossible. Enough is enough! I would wager that an audit of executive salaries would expose increased compensation for their executives despite stagnant wages nationwide and hardships most low income customers have to shoulder the burden for. Poor and low income families are having to pay "rental tax" to cities because landlords and investors simply passed the buck to their tenants. We can't continue supporting the rich and the greedy when we can barely feed ourselves and our families or live with any degree of comfort or security. The increases might not look significant to someone who isn't living paycheck to paycheck, but to the rest of us an increase like they are proposing literally takes food out of our mouths. We have to get creative just to survive, so why not require the utility companies to work harder with less like the rest of us do? We're bled out already, and this is way above and beyond reason. "Fees" we're unleashed upon us by greedy banks, and now - because they got away with it and gouged huge profits from consumers with little to no regulation - everybody else is getting in on it. Stop allowing them to drive everyone else into the dirt so they can make higher profits. Every year we hear how they need more, more, more. Just say no. Somebody has to.
