REQUEST: CONTINUANCE of HEARING

Respondents.

BY THE COMMISSION:

I am submitting this Request for Continuance as the defendant in the case named above. The court issued a hearing date of January 22, 2018 at 10:00 a.m. and has ordered Respondents to exchange copies of their Witness Lists and copies of the Exhibits by December 23, 2017.

As previously stated, for the past several months I have been dealing with both my parent's health issues which has not allowed me to prepare for the upcoming hearing. Unfortunately, my father took a turn for the worst, he passed away and his funeral was just last month. My mother's health is also not good and to make matters worse she suffered a stroke on the 25th and had to be hospitalized. Again, she does not have the ability to care for herself and I had to move my entire family into my mother's house to care for her. We are still helping her get all my parent's affairs in order after my father's death which has been extremely time-consuming and cumbersome. The good news is, everything is nearly complete which will free up my time necessary to prepare for my hearing.

Originally I requested a continuance for a date after March 30, 2018 but the hearing was continued for January 22, 2018, which did not allow me the time necessary to prepare for my hearing. There have been unforeseeable circumstances that have happened and I plead with the court to please honor my original request and continue my hearing for a date after March 30, 2018. I will be prepared for my hearing after this time and will not be requesting another continuance.

Thank you for your patience and for your understanding.

Sincerely,

Greg Sanchez
